

Saturday, October 27. 2012

Double Gift-Card Holder {Template}

Here is a fun way to present someone with two gift cards in one tiny package. For the template, click HERE. My parents' birthdays are only two weeks apart. This year, they will be out-of-town, so when they return, I plan on surprising them with these little packages tied up with string. They are tiny, but they pack a mighty punch.

You can stuff them with two gift cards:

Or, you can put a gift card on one side and a little note card on the other side:

It takes about five minutes to make this adorable gem. So easy! Just download the template, print it, trace it, cut it out, score it, fold it, and you are done. Of course you will also want to add some embellishments to make it irresistible!

I'm hoping they will think the packaging is so cool that they will invite me to go to lunch with them. Do you agree?

Click HERE to explore our greeting card package subscriptions so you will always have a greeting card on-hand when you need one. Be sure to keep an eye out for our upcoming Cyber Monday special event, too.

Posted by Charlene in Card Ideas, Gift Ideas at 22:49